Students Help In Fight Against Cancer

The students of Appomattox County schools have again helped the cause in the fight against cancer in the amount of $170.-16. As in the past several years, we were allowed to place "Send a Mouse To College" envelopes in each of the county schools.

Two quarters and a penny in a Mouse Envelope will buy a mouse for a cancer research laboratory. Scientists need thousands of mice to help save lives from the dreaded disease . . . cancer.

According to Mrs. Lloyd Hudson, chairman of this phase of the Cancer Crusade, the Appomattox Primary School contributed $90.00; Students from Pamplin Elementary School contributed $21.00; Appomattox County Intermediate School students gave a total of $43.59 and $15.57 came in from students at the Appomattox County High School.

A special thanks is extended the Appomattox County School Board for their permission to place the "Mouse Envelopes" in the schools and to the principals and teachers in each of the schools for their cooperation.

Former Mayor-Treasurer Dies In Florida

by Calvin H. Robinson

The death this week at his retirement home in Florida of George B. Buchanan brought a flood of memories to friends in Appomattox, where he served as Mayor, County Treasurer and as business leader and churchman. He was elected as Councilman in 1945, was Mayor from 1947 to 1953 and was appointed by Judge Joel Flood to the office of County Treasurer to succeed the late R. L. Burke. He had a major role in the growth of present-day Appomattox.

Born in 1891 in Southside's Mecklenburg County, he entered upon a career in big time construction projects, traveling around the nation on major building jobs. Due to a leg injury he had to change careers in middle life, and settled in Appomattox in 1936, as proprietor of a Main Street barber shop, a trade he quickly mastered. His knowledge of construction came in advantage. It was apparent that the Town required a large water supply to attract industry, and the voters backed him in a special election for a new 100,000 gallon water tank, and the Mayor saw to it that the words "Historic Appomattox" were painted on the tank, alongside Route 460. In 1950, when the McLean House was rebuilt at Old Appomattox Court House, Mayor Buchanan secured from his friend, Congressman Watt Abbitt a list of places all over the world where Peace had been made. Then he had souvenir ceramic plates made showing the Peace Scene at Appomattox in 1865, and sent them as gifts to fellow Mayors of Peace Cities. From London, Paris, Vienna, South Africa, Japan, Switzerland and other cities came return greetings and souvenirs, some even having special medallions made. One result was a special article in the nationally circulated Barber's Journal, featuring Appomattox's Barber-Mayor.

When Transcontinental Natural Gas Pipeline came through Appomattox, hundreds of construction workers needed living quarters, and the Town of some 1,200 found room for them to stay. Somehow the Town, under the leadership of the Mayor, found rooms, parking space for trailers and spread the welcome mat for the workmen and their families.

Steve Almond

Player of Year

Steve Almond, senior, and star outfielder (above) has been named "Player of the Year" in the Seminole District. Steve's batting average in season and tournament play was .471. He made 33 hits during the season with 13 of the 33 good for extra bases. He batted in 26 runs, according to coach Jerry Robinson. As pitcher for the Raiders Steve pitched seven games, winning six - half of the Raiders' total. Dennis Wilkerson won four games and Ricky Garrett, two. Steve was "a leading factor in team showing which led the Raiders to the finals in the region," said Coach Robinson. The coach expressed his pleasure in coaching a player of Steve's quality and achievement. "I'd like to field nine boys of Steve's calibre in the various positions," said Robinson. He added, "I'd like to have him back next year." Steve is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Almond.

Cost Of Federal Aid Runs High

NEW YORK, May 20 - According to a recent study, taxpayers in Appomattox County are paying a high price for the benefits their area receives in the form of Federal aid.

The figures show that for every dollar in grants that comes to them from Washington -- for welfare, education, health, housing, highways, urban renewal and other purposes --the cost to them is $1.04.

That is the estimate of the amount they have been contributing, via their income taxes and excise taxes, for allocation to the aid programs, It is exclusive of what had to be provided locally in the form of matching funds.

The study was made by the Tax Foundation, a non-profit research organization that keeps tab on Federal spending. It represents a state by state breakdown of Treasury Department figures covering the past fiscal year.

The findings are that, in 21 of the states, more money was collected in taxes that were earmarked for the aid programs than came back to them in grants. In the other 29 states, the benefits exceeded the cost.

Of the taxes collected in the State of Virginia as a whole, $596,000,000 went into the aid program and $572,000,000 came back in grants.

Appomattox County's contribution amounted to approximately $1,248,000 of the total and its share of the grants, to nearly $1,200,000.

As for the unequal distribution of grants-in-aid, it is explained that there is no attempt to return dollar for dollar. The purpose is to provide aid in accordance with need.

The report shows that a total of $29 billion in such aid was

Power Outage On June 10

Vepco has announced a planned power outage for its customers in the Appomattox area on Saturday, June 10, 1972. The outage will include Vepco customers from Pamplin and extend west along Highway 460 through Appomattox to Concord. Vepco customers north of Appomattox are included in the power outage. Appomattox and Concord residents can expect approximately one hour of power outage beginning at 5:00 a.m. June 10, 1972. Vepco customers from Appomattox back to Pamplin will have an extended outage of approximately three to four hours.

The power outage is necessary so that improvements may be made to Vepco's power lines in that area. Vepco appreciates its customers' understanding during this necessary change.

$5 Million Increase Over Last Assessment

Because of the reassessment of property in Appomatox County this year, taxable real estate assessment values have increased to $15,263,144, an increase of $5,417,445 over the 1971 real estate assessment in the county of $9,845,699.

The increased valuation will mean more tax dollars to the county, of course, but because of the drop in rate from $3.00 per hundred valuation to $2.90 per hundred dollar valuation, the tax revenue will not be as high as other wise.

Appomattox supervisors are considering the coming fiscal year's budget (July 1, 1972 to June 30, 1973) and will hold a public hearing on the proposed budget after publication in the TIMES-VIRGINIAN sometime this month.

Property in Appomattox county is taxed at the rate of $2.90 per $100 valuation, based on an appraisal of 80% of fair market value with an assessment of 30% of this appraised value. Example of this rate of taxation is a house and land with total fair market value of $20,000. Appraised value would be 80% or $16,000 and the assessment would be 30% of this $4800) with the total tax bill of $139.20.

In Cloverhill District, with 64,313 acres, land values increased from $900,480 in 1971 to $2,011,630. Evaluation of buildings and improvements did not show as great an increase. 1971 values showed $1,322,640 and 1972, $1,623,530 for a 1972 total for land buildings and improvements of $3,635,160 as compared with 1971's $2,-321,100. Total levies in 1971 from Cloverhill District in 1971 -- $69,633.00 The new tax bill for land owners in Cloverhill will be approximately $105,000.

In Southside District there are 55,331 acres of land. Land values in 1971 were assessed at $1,165,530 but in 1972 now stand at $2,176,950 an increase of a little over $1 million. Value of buildings and improvements, in 1971, was $1,789,970 of but in 1972 is $2,461,610 for a total value of land and improvements of $4,638,560 as compared with last year's total of $2,955,500. Levies in 1971 totaled $88,-665.00 with approximately $134,000 expected in levies this year from this district.

In Stonewall District there are 81,029 acres of land. Land values in 1971 were assessed at $1,221,380 as compared with the 1972 evaluation of $2,-502,100 which together with buildings and improvements evaluation of $1,740,830 adds up to a total of $4,242,920. Last year's total evaluation for Stonewall was $2,463,840 which brought in total levie of $73,-915.20. Levies this year will be approximately $123,000.

May Offer Exam For High School Equivalency

The Appomattox County School Board is conducting a survey of the citizens of the county to determine whether sufficient demand exists to offer a High School Equivalency Program.

This program would prepare those persons who left school at the ninth grade level or above to take the High School Equivalency Examination and if successfully passed would be awarded the High School Equivalent Certificate.

Letters to this effect are being distributed through the schools. Any citizen interested in this program may write or call the School Board Office expressing their need or desire.
